Dear Penn,

Here is the list of names of which O wrote earlier, with an extra copy in case you want Shirley Martin or someone else with local familiarity to go over them. What I'd like to know is if there is a radical-right pattern in these names. Remember, there will be much that is not central to their purpose in the source from which I got them, like Joe Blow was walking down the street and saw Millie and Jean go into the Shack Shop. So there will be many names that can be extraneous.

At least one of my distributors is handling your book. When I was speaking to Herb Dimondstein yesterday and started to give him a sales talk he laughed and said he had it.

I'll have copies of the new one for you soon. Those two pictures were very helpful. I used one and have the other for use in speeches.

When you can, please send me the hospital-Ruby one. Somebody made off with it at WTTG, so I cannot give it to Kantor, who could not get there.

Best from us both,
